

AddressTransactionBlockRelationship

The possible relationship types for a transaction block: sent, or received.

Transactions this address has sent.

Transactions that this address was involved in, either as the sender, sponsor, or as the owner of some object that was created, modified or transferred.